The Guerrilla 450 is all about design without distractions. No flashy frills. No pointless plastics. It has an athletic build with perfect angles, purposeful edges, and muscles in all the right places. This is a machine that looks as good as it rides.

The Royal Enfield Guerrilla 450 has been calibrated by riders, not robots, for real world riding. Made for every rider at every level of riding experience, it delivers maximum sensation and agility, no matter which power band you are in. An upright riding stance, approachable seat height and ultra-responsive chassis make it the perfect machine for everyday, any day riding from traffic to twisties.

The Guerrilla 450 wasn't designed for spec sheets or racetrack fantasies. It was made for one thing and one thing only: riding. This motorcycle is tuned with real modes for real roads, featuring the 452cc, liquid-cooled Sherpa engine that keeps you kinetic across the rev range, no matter what gear you're in.
